OPENING OF COSHOCTON'S FIRST FALL FESTIVAL ATTRACTS IMMENSE THRONG

Beautiful Display of Fall Goods

Impressive Ceremonies Mark The Crowning of Miss Mary Fredrickson as Queen--Parade, a Beautiful Sight, Is Signal For Unveiling of Display Windows.

Biff! Bing! Bang!

At 7 o'clock, Tuesday night, the hour which Coshocton people have looked forward to for three weeks, the city's first Style Show opened amid surrounding surpassing anything ever undertaken in the way of a public demonstration in the city.

With banners flying, flags unfurled, a thousand lights turning night into day and stirring music rising above the din of automobile horns and the shouts of spectators no more effective sight could be imagined.

Was it a success?

The greatest ever!

This was the concensus of opinion of everyone who witnessed the auspicious occasion. And there were thousands of them. The crowd which thronged Main street from Sixth to Second has been estimated by those in position to know at fifteen thousand. The number of automobiles and other vehicles parked on either side of the street in the three squares, by actual count, numbered 420. Before five o'clock automobiles were finding the choice places along the street, and the driver who did not get in before six o'clock had poor choosing.

As the appointed hour approached, the eyes of these thousands of spectators were turned in unison toward the balcony of the Park hotel while each and everyone stood in almost breathless expectancy for the appearance of the Queen of the Style Show, whose coronation on the balcony, was the crowning event of the evening.

A CHARMING QUEEN

To this honor Miss Mary Fredrickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Fredrickson, of South Fourth street, had been chosen by the votes of the people. A more charming queen one could not wish to see, and it is doubtful if ever a queen received more homage from her subjects than she. Cheer after cheer rang from the great throng as she, attended by her five maids in waiting, ascended her throne. Miss Lucile Robinson, chosen to be her maid of honor, lead the way onto the balcony followed by Miss Fredrickson, while in her train came her other four attendants: Miss Nellie Clark, Miss Elizabeth Sawvel, Miss Oneita Barnes and Miss Gertrude Reuss. The Queen's coronation gown was an exquisite robe of lace in pure white. Draped about her shoulders was filmy maline in fishu effect, the ends flowing gracefully almost to the hem of her gown. She carried a large boquet of white roses. Miss Robinson was gowned in yellow with the yellow maline drape and a band of yellow satin about her head. Her boquet was carnations. The other attendants wore dainty frocks of accordian pleated crepe de chine in white, two of them wearing the pink maline drapes and two blue, in exact duplication of that worn by the queen. White asters formed their boquets. The flowers carried by all her maids were gifts from the queen and in addition to these she presented to each as a remembrance of the occasion handsome pins. Miss Robinson's was a cameo set in gold and the others were little gold pins each set with a pearl, a queen's emblem.

JUDGE ASHMAN SPEAKS

Judge Frank Ashman chosen to perform the coronation ceremony, held the great crowd spell bound as he delivered a brief but appropriate speech in which he congratulated the merchants of Coshocton upon planning and bringing to so great a success, an undertaking which has rarely been attempted in a city this size.

Proud of City.

"Coshocton merchants are proud of Coshocton," said he and when it comes to giving the people of the city the best there is to be had they are not to be outstripped by anyone. The men of the city planned the Style Show," he said, "but we all know it is impossible to give anything with the word style in it without implicating the women and so it was decided to have at the head of the show a queen."

At the conclusion of Judge Ashman's talk, Miss Frederickson was presented to him by C. K. Clemens and taking her by the hand and presenting her to the crowd below the judge placed upon her brow the crown of gold, especially designed for her. As cheers of the people arose Miss Frederickson was lifted to her throne and from there with a dainty gracefulness bowed and waved her appreciation to the cheering throng. The silver loving cup, the gift presented to Miss Frederickson, by the merchants, as a memento of the honor thus bestowed upon her, was then presented.

Immediately following the ceremony the queen and her party were escorted to T. L. Montgomery's automobile, waiting in front of the hotel. The car was beautifully decorated in flowers and white draperies.

Throws Flowers.

As the queen's party was taking its place in the car the rest of the parade, which had formed at Second street, started, led by

Here They Are -- Queen And Her Maid of Honor

Miss Mary Frederickson who was crowned Queen of the Fall Festival by Probate Judge Frank Ashman last night before one of the largest crowds ever seen in the city.

Miss Lucile Robinson, first maid of honor to the Queen. She received second highest number of votes in the popularity contest.

Big Jail Delivery

Jailor C. C. Graham, of the city prison smiles to himself when he thinks how he fooled two hoboes into leaving the city. The outsiders were repeaters and, like the chickens, came home to roost only in their case, home appeared to be the city prison. At last the mayor told them that he would send them to the works [illegible] that when they were released they would shake Coshocton dust from their feet. Jailor Graham got wise to the situation and Tuesday morning while doing some cleaning he purposely left the door of the cell house open. A short time later the hoboes disappeared and were not seen afterwards.

Paper Hanger Hurt Falling From Ladder

Samuel Wilcox, of South Second street, sustained a Coles fracture of the right arm Tuesday afternoon when he fell from a stepladder while hanging paper. Dr. J. W. Shaw was called and reduced the fracture.

Sandy Gets Long Stay In Prison

Alex Laird, jr., of Oak avenue and Twelfth street, better known as "Sandy," was given a fine of $5 and costs Tuesday for intoxication, and a sentence of three months in the Canton work house and the costs on a charge of assaulting his wife.

"Sandy" appeared for his hearing at an evening session before the mayor. His wife was present and bore a badly blacked eye which spoke for itself, so the mayor, in view of "Sandy's" police record for the past few months, considered that his wife could spare him for a while. He will be taken to Canton this morning.

Operated on At Hospital

Mrs. Daisy Hawkins, of South Lawn avenue, underwent an operation for appendicitis at the City Hospital Tuesday morning. Her condition was reported to be satisfactory at a late hour last night. She was operated upon by Drs. [illegible], Lister, Lonergan and [illegible] McCurdy.

Court Proceedings May Be Necessary To Force Payment

Local Manufacturing Companies Refusing to Pay Increased Water Rent Now Alleged to Owe More Than $2,000--Mayor Asks Cases be Authorized.

The opening gun of the city's fight to compel several manufacturing companies to pay up their alleged arrears due the city for water rent since the decision was made last October by Service Director Elmer Smith that no concessions under the regular rate would be allowed to any users whether large or small, was fired by the mayor Monday night and will be paramount in interest at the next meeting. The new rate was fixed at 8 cents per thousand gallons.

This is the same ruling that was followed prior to 1910. At that time several of the large manufacturing concerns were given their water at a rebate which practically amounted to a rate of 5 cents per thousand gallons. When Service Director Smith made his ruling, six manufacturing concerns refused to pay the increased rate and as a result, a large sum is due the city from these concerns if it is held that the action of the Service Director was legal and just.

The six concerns which have refused to pay the new rate are the Coshocton Novelty and Sign company, the Coshocton Straw Paper company, The Coshocton Glass company, the Pope-Gosser China company, the Compton-Price Piano company and the Eureka Laundry company. These companies, according to the figures of the Service Director, owe the city amounts varying from $69.22 to 688.65 and amounting in all to

Near Blue Earth, Minn., a Chicago book agent discovered this declaration of war on the fence of a farmer who only asks to be let alone:

"NOTICE.

"Trespassers will be persekuted to the full extent of the law and I might caushun further and say Bewar of 2 mean mungrels wich aint never been overly soshibil with strangers and 1 double barl shot gun which aint loaded with no sufy pillars. Dam if I aint tire of this helraisin on my property."

Small Army of Nimrods Seek Woods

The call of the woods was heard by many a Coshocton county hunter this morning in the wee small hours before the red of the dawning sun streaked the skies. In the dark he stumbled over chairs an bumped his head against doors trying to get his gun and other paraphernalia together for the day's hunt. Friend wife had to get up and light the gas to cook a hasty breakfast and prepare a lunch for the eager nimrod.

And when he left for the woods, the stars were still aglow. Just as the dawn was agraying he entered the woods and crept silently through the shadows to the old den tree or the hickory where there were always one or two to be found. And then he waited for the first glimpse of the slim, lithe body and—Bang! The first of the day's bag.

This is the story of many a hunter throughout the county this morning. The light rainfall Tuesday afternoon pleased the hunters for they remembered the dryness of the leaves and twigs last year and the difficulty encountered in approaching within range of the wary squirrel.

According to all reports, squirrel are more plentiful this year than for several years past and many a hunting party has been organized for today.

The season does not close until the evening of October 20 and it is thought that many more of the little animals will be killed this year than last.

Mrs. Frank Butler, of West Bedford, was a visitor in the city, Tuesday.

Outdoor Dance To Be Feature Of Style Show

The success of the opening night of Coshocton's first Style Show is to be followed up during the week with other specially arranged features. One of these will be a dance on the sidewalk surrounding the court square. This feature was suggested by a number of the young people of the city and met with unanimous favor when presented to the merchants interested in the Style Show. By the use of soap stone or other smoothing substance the concrete pavement, it is said, can be made as smooth as any ball room floor and the advantages of outdoor dancing compared with that of indoor are too well known to mention.

It is believed that the outdoor dance will draw almost as large a crowd as that of the opening night. It of course will be open to all.

This morning at 9 o'clock a meeting of the men interested in Style Show will be held at the Buckeye Clothing store, when special features for the rest of the Style Show week will be planned.

CO-OPERATION
(An Editorial)

The latent power hidden within the word CO-OPERATION never had a better demonstration than it had here in the good town of Coshocton last evening.

Not even the men who planned the fete Coshocton is putting on this week had any just conception beforehand of the success which was to crown their efforts last night. It was a fine idea, cleverly planned and ably executed.

There were no especially favoring circumstances. The weather was not of the kind the promoters of the Festival would have selected. The time was not altogether propitious. There was more to be done than the busy men who served on the various committees could well attend to in addition to their daily routine.

But last night proved that adverse circumstances of this kind really amount to nothing when a hustling, determined bunch of men and women set their minds and hearts to the performance of a worthy task.

CO-OPERATION did it. Co-operation combined with plenty of hustle and a little spare change will accomplish wonders anywhere and at any time. In years agone it laid the foundation for what Coshocton is today. The spirit which has been so much in evidence the past month means a civic center here ten years hence which will be the realization of our fondest dreams today.

It was a young men's performance. The older heads were in evidence with words of counsel and approval. But it was the shoulders of Coshocton's young business men that were laid against the wheels. They accepted the test, they welcomed the hard work, they assumed complete responsibility. The success is theirs.

The felicitous exercises attending the crowning of the Festival's Queen; the handsome window displays; the remarkably beautiful interior decorations of the stores from the largest to the humblest; the profusion of rich stocks, were all but mere symbols of the splendid spirit of CO-OPERATION which was the sole foundation of the more spectacular superstructure which caught the eye of the pleasure-seeking throngs on the streets.

Without assuming to speak with authority The Tribune does not hesitate to say that there will be another Fall Festival next year. We believe a year is too long a time to wait for another demonstration which unified and consolidated the commercial interests of the whole county in last night's fete.

The present example of CO-OPERATION has provided a common ground on which every man and every interest concerned in the wholesome development of the city can henceforth stand. The on-coming generation of young business men have at last realized what it is possible for them to accomplish when united.

Can any man or any interest hereafter advance an argument showing that it is better to pull apart than it is to pull together?

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Look years younger! Use Grandmother's recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and abundant. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old recipe which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and falling hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark, glossy, and abundant.

OBJECT TO BRITISH LOAN.

German Sympathizers Get Busy and Scare American Bankers.

New York, Sept. 14.—Sentiment is already beginning to be expressed from German-Americans and their sympathizers against the placing of a credit in this country for the account of Great Britain. The first blow was struck last week when a daily publication issued a protest against the loan negotiations. It would appear that the pro-Germans intend to set the "guns" on the local bankers and the Anglo-French delegates in their campaign of education in this country and win public opinion on their side if possible before the bankers and the financial delegates state their position.

It was reported in Wall street that several bankers had received letters from depositors who confessed that they were of German sympathies, threatening to withdraw their deposits in case that they learned that the institution with which they banked was a party to any syndicate to float a British loan. [illegible] who have employed trust companies to act as trustees for their funds have appealed at the same [illegible] that their money should not be used to aid the cause of the allies. In case that [illegible] they threaten to withdraw their funds at once.

This is believed to be one of the reasons which bankers in the middle west have manifested a lukewarm attitude toward participating in the British loan. It has been reported for several weeks in Wall street that when one bank in St. Louis was asked to participate in a recent French loan certain of the directors who were of German origin threatened to resign and would withdraw their support of their bank if it accepted the offer. For that reason the president of the bank had to decline to let his institution be a participant in the loan.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion, female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind. I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."—Mrs. JOSIE HAM, R. Lime-Loss in Tuberculosis

In the Journal of the American Medical Association (January 17, 1914) was the following:

"It has been many times stated that in tuberculosis or in the pre-tuberculosis stage an increased amount of calcium (lime) is lost, both in the urine and feces. In fact, a demineralization has been thought to be a forerunner of the development of tuberculosis * * *

"Forced feeding of tuberculosis patients and the enormous amount of eggs and milk once given such patients are not now considered advisable by a large number of physicians who are specializing in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis."

ADMINISTRATION MAY STOP LOAN

Treasury Official Meets With Allies' Financiers.

Washington, Sept. 14.—A new complication was injected into America's international relations — Shall the United States government become "banker" for the allies?

This was the question raised by the proposal from the Anglo-French banking commission in conference with New York financiers. It was an issue which, in administration circles, was looked on as ranking in importance almost if not quite in the class with the submarine controversy.

Germany and Austria might protest as unneutral against the proposed mammoth loan, it was reported in diplomatic circles.

Intimations from high officials were that the Washington government will disapprove if not actually forbid the huge loan to the allies, if it is made solely upon bonds of the nations asking it.

The government is represented in the conferences, although unofficially, it was learned. A treasury official is meeting with the European and American financiers. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo is watching the course of the negotiations carefully.

It was reported that the American bankers will sound out the administration before completing any loan. A committee may come here to meet McAdoo.

Officials pointed out that the government has already indicated that it frowns on loans to any of the belligerents. Thus far it has not actively stepped in to prevent a loan, however. THE RECALL OF DR. DUMBA

We doubt if there is a fair-minded Austrian or German in this country but what approves of the recall of Dr. Dumba, the Austrian ambassador, by President Wilson. That the man, in his mistaken zeal to serve his native land, made a grevious error no one who has read his admissions will deny.

Naturally, his usefulness here was ended the moment the disclosures concerning him were made. The president's actions were deliberate and displayed his usual patience. It is direct notice to all the world that there are certain limitations even to the freedom which our democracy allows citizens and aliens alike.

The incident is not one of hostility toward Austria, nor is it unusual. Such things have happened often. It is the fault of the individual, not of the government he represents. We have had representatives sent back to us, and we have sent other representatives home, because of indiscretions they have committed.

During a political campaign in this country several years ago the British minister wrote a letter to a man who had written to him for information as to how he should vote. The letter writer said he was a former Englishman, and desired to vote the way it would be most advantageous to England, and the minister was caught in the trap. He advised the writer as to how he believed he should cast his ballot, and the letter was promptly published. Grover Cleveland was then president, and he immediately notified England that her representative was not desired in this country, that the British government should recall him and send another representative. England did so without a word of complaint, and Sir Julian Pauncefote came to relieve the unhappy gentleman who has been so indiscreet as to meddle in purely local affairs.

Then, during this very administration, President Wilson named an ambassador to Russia and was promptly notified that he would be persona non grata—or a person who would not be pleasing to the Russian government and the name was promptly withdrawn. So there is nothing unusual or hostile in our sending Mr. Dumba back home, where he more properly belongs.

We do not know what manner of man is Mr. Dumba. He may be an enthusiastic patriot anxious to do whatever within his power lies to help his nation in this struggle. But he is certainly a dangerous man to be representing a friendly nation. We could not for a moment tolerate any such conduct upon the part of any foreigner, regardless of what government he represents. To sit in this country as a representative of another government, to plan and plot to bring about strikes in American factories, to employ American citizens bearing American passports to carry his correspondence—these things could not be tolerated by a nation that is doing all it can to maintain absolute neutrality.

As for Mr. Archibald, the laws of this country can deal with him. His passports have already been cancelled. Should he return to this country, he will probably be arrested and tried, and if he has violated our laws in any manner, he will be punished. But whether he is guilty of any criminal offense or not, he is certainly guilty of a violation of the spirit of neutrality, and he should be shunned by all Americans who desire to see this government maintain friendly relations with all other governments.

Hon. William Howard Taft, former President of the United States, noted jurist, educator and publicist, is 58 years old today. In the full vigor of an active and useful life, Professor Taft is today one of the most imposing statesmen of the day. He retains his love of travel, of meeting and talking with the people, and propounding the legal view of the great questions of the day. From his chair of law at Yale, there radiates a mellowing influence in all big questions. Not the least important of his great activities since his administration is the aid he has rendered to President Wilson. The wide range of experience of Prof. Taft has been opened up to his successor most generously. Prof. Taft was born at Cincinnati Sept. 15, 1857, son of Alphonso Taft, formerly Attorney General. He was graduated from High school, Yale, and Cincinnati Law school. He was admitted to the bar in Ohio, and later held many offices there. In 1890 he became Solicitor General of the U. S., and two years later was appointed Circuit Court judge. In 1900 he left for the Philippines as a member of the U. S. commission, and became the first civil governor of the Islands. Twice he declined a seat on the Supreme Court bench from President Roosevelt. He was made Secretary of War in the Roosevelt cabinet 1904 to 1908, and became President in 1909. He was defeated for re-election through a split in the Republican party. Pres. Taft then became Prof. Taft of New Haven. Mrs. Taft was formerly Miss Helen Herron of Cincinnati. PEOPLES' FORUM

ECHO FROM W. C. T. U. CONVENTION.
(Contributed by Mrs. Foster Endsley).

The Superintendent of the department of Scientific Temperance Instruction reported four Essay Contests held in the following schools: Roscoe, the writers of winning essays being Mary E. Miller of High school and Doris Finnell, of 7th grade; Nellie, winners being Marie Phillips and Myrtle Bowers; Walhonding winners, Hazel Rodehaver and Beatrice Greer, and Warsaw, Eva Shepard and Helen Wright. These eight winners of cash prizes given by the local W. C. T. U., then competed for the county prizes, which competent disinterested judges awarded to Eva Shepard, aged 15, of first year Warsaw High school and Beatrice Greer, of Walhonding, 7th grade. These fortunate ones received the $10 and $5 offered by the county W. C. T. U. The Superintendent copied these essays and sent the originals on to State Superintendent, and we are hoping for still farther honors.

About 100 essays were written in the county, and not a poor one among them, and we are sure that the boy or girl that has gleaned the facts for one of these temperance essays, and expressed them in their own language, has gained a knowledge that will leave an impress time will not face. Mrs. Endsley was gratified to have Miss Shepard present at the convention, and to note the splendid attention given while she read her essay on "Alchohol and Crime."

The work of the W. C. T. U. has ever been largely educational and we insist that no other department is more important than this, and our teachers, as a rule, are responsive to suggestion and help along this line. Miss Shephard's essay follows:

Alcohol and Crime

According to Webster, crime is a breach of law, or public wrong.

The public being composed of people, anything which effects the people, effects the public either directly or indirectly.

We know that alcohol, where used as a drink, tends toward demoralizing manhood and womanhood and there-by bringing them to the place where they no longer care for law or virtue. For this reason the regions about saloons are dangerous.

We have a right to hold law as almost sacred, because it was one of the first things established by our Creator.

Alcohol and crime are so closely associated that where we find one we are almost certain to find the other.

The first place a policeman looks for crime is in a saloon, but it is the last place to look for virtue.

From the standpoint of law, alcohol is the very germ of crime.

It has been said that seventy-five percent of the crime committed in Europe and America outside of the war, is due to alcohol. The slum districts of large cities, where crime is a common affair, are largely controlled by the saloons. Many of the vicious characters of these slum districts would be entirely absent if it were not for liquor, because they would soon reform if it were not for the strong grip "King Alcohol" has on their will power. If these cities were the use of alcohol is prohibited, the slum districts [illegible] fifty percent.

Men have come home from the saloon, under the influence of alcohol and have killed their wives and children whom they formerly protected. When they sobered they have been so mortified by their own deeds that they have taken their own lives, making a double crime.

The insane, idiots, tramps, paupers, murderers, robbers and common "bums" are products of the saloon.

Liquor comes to ruin and it will profit by the rising generation.

Many children have the curse of alcohol laid upon them by their parents, even before birth. The appetite gradually grows until at the age early manhood and womanhood they are slaves to a habit, the cause of which dates back to their parents.

One of the first and worst effects of alcohol is its effect on the brain or mental powers. It is indeed a sad sight to see a young man to whom nature has given a good constitution and a chance to make success, reeling and staggering down street, stumbling over children and muttering oaths at almost every step, and half wild under the influence of alcohol. It would not be so bad, if on the next day it would all be over, but the worst is, that the cells of the brain are numbed so that they cannot perform their work properly. The brain power as well as the physical body, becomes more and more deficient with every drink until the victim is little more than a physical and moral wreck, and his life may end with that awful disease which the doctors call "Alcoholism." But is it all the young man's fault? Surely the men who stand by and let alcohol perform deadly ruin are not entirely guiltless.

After a young man has lost his ambition, good health and a part of his youth through alcohol, he may come to himself; he sees what alcohol has done, but he is helpless being minus will power.

While alcohol may be all right in its place, it is all wrong in man.

Thousands of lives have been lost in railroad wrecks where engineers have been intoxicated. We cannot always prove that the engineers are entirely to blame because they certainly would not intentionally hurl hundreds of lives into eternity! Therefore we must lay the crime to "King Alcohol." Alcohol retards a rapid elevation of society. In those homes where liquor is used there is constant discord. The wife and children are afraid of the man when the demon drink has control of him.

The person who drinks heavily, no longer has much self respect. Alcohol has such a grip on him, that he will give up anything to obtain it.

The The drunkard undermines a good character, health, happiness, prosperity and tramples on the fond hopes of some mother or perhaps wife.

They go lower and lower until nothing seems too degrading for them to do. At least, homeless, penniless, hopeless, friendless and degraded, they are cast out by the saloon keeper as finished products.

King Alcohol is no respector of persons—a man of either high or low station in life, is effected by it.

A certain wealthy man who always, when he was asked about the prohibition question, gave the answer, "Sir, it is none of my business," one day went to the station to meet his wife and two daughters, when he heard of a wreck, but he thought, "It certainly is not the train that my family is on." But he is informed that it is the same train. He becomes highly excited, rushes to the telegraph operator and flashes the statement—"I'll give five hundred dollars for an extra engine"—answer, "No"! Again he offers—"I'll give eight hundred," answer, "No"! But he must have one, he flashes the offer, "one thousand dollars," answer, "No," last engine carries nurses and physicians." For an eternal hour he faces the platform. It is his business now. Here comes the wreck train! He advances and finds the mangled forms of his wife and one daughter—dead—and the other daughter dying. A childless, wifeless man in one minute! Why? All because a train hand used a quart of whisky fifty miles back.

Whose business is it when one hundred thousand men fill drunkard's graves every year? But there are no statistics which tell of the tears, heartaches and despair of [illegible] these victims.

An eminent prison authority once said that fourteen out of seventeen murder cases which he examined, were due to alcohol. Alcohol devours the food of the hungry and the clothes of the naked. It is a destroyer of contentment and a murderer of happiness and health.

While many are dying from the effects of alcohol, others must take the places of those who fall. It has been said "Alcohol does more real harm than the anarchist, murderer and gambler combined.

In our prisons many boys are found, who, when asked why they committed some murder, will say, "I did not know what I was doing—I just wanted to kill some-one!" They were under the influence of liquor when they committed the crime.

A policeman once said "I have never taken a total abstainer to prison in my life, neither have I taken one to the house of correction."

King Alcohol stunts the physical and mental growth of boys and girls, blights young manhood and brings shame and death on the middle aged and older people.

"It damns the father with its bite,
It chokes the child with its coils,
Whatever it touches, it soils,
Who ever touches it, it spoils:
Its trail is marked with sickening blight."

Chalmers Six-40
$1350 Seven Passenger

20% More Power

The Chalmers valve-in-head motor with overhead camshaft is as far in advance of the old types of motors as the self-starter is ahead of the starting crank.

It is generally recognized in the trade and among owners as the 20% more power motor.

THE Chalmers Six-40 is the new motor car at a lower price, equipped with this wonderful new type of motor which has made it necessary for the Chalmers Company to so tremendously increase its production for 1916.

The Season's Motor Sensation

On the hills and country roads where going is hard, this $1350 car will do all for you that it did for A. E. Walden when he established a record at the recent Uniontown Hill Climb, driving a Chalmers Six-40, that was eight seconds better than the previous record for the class.

Within the limits of touring car service its wonderful valve-in-head overhead camshaft motor will give you all the efficiency and "trigger-quick" getaway that this type gave De Palma and Resta when they averaged 90, 98 and 102 miles an hour for 300 and 500 miles at Indianapolis and Chicago.

Comfortable as a Rocking Chair

The new Chalmers Six-40 is as comfortable as a big library rocking-chair.

The leather upholstered seats are deep and luxurious; the sides of the tonneau are built on the "armchair" principle. You ride in the car—not on it.

The leg-room is ample; the rear springs are 57 inches long—longer than any other car in this class—and the result is that the car glides over rough spots with an easy motion that makes motoring a pleasure under every condition.

Made in Chalmers Shops

Chalmers cars are made in Chalmers shops under the most exacting standards. They are quality cars throughout in style, beauty, comfort and performance.

See us to-day. We will give you a ride over the hills and country roads in this $1350 car that will prove its 20% greater power.

New Service to Owners
Every Chalmers dealer gives to every buyer of a Chalmers car a Service Coupon Book, each coupon being redeemable for a definite amount of inspection service at any Chalmers dealer's anywhere.

Chalmers Club and Clubman
Every Chalmers owner is entitled to a membership card in the Chalmers Club commending him to the courtesies of Chalmers representatives everywhere, and to receive "The Chalmers Clubman" regularly without charge.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentanel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentanel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unsightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. They result in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefit.

"Sentanel tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action on the system is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel fine, refreshed and invigorated. Sentanel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the easiest, most natural treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

[illegible] say that the advent of the "sentanel tablet" as a vegetable substitute for [illegible] has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Sentanel tablets, aside from their efficacy, undoubtedly owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of irritating the membraneous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpensiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentanel tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

When I went to lift anything about the shop or stoop over, sharp stitches caught me across my back and the only way I could straighten was to put my hands to my hips as a support. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and bothered me at night. Remedies I used failed to do me any good until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Siegrist & Willias' Drug Co. A few boxes made a complete cure."

Thin People Can Increase Weight

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and many thin men and women we believe can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it aims to turn the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepare it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. Much of this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol works to stop the waste and do it quickly and to make the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Wimmer-Arnold and other leading druggists in this vicinity sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in each large box.

PUT STOMACH IN IN FINE CONDITION

Says Indigestion Results From an Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyperacidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. This everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.
